

BRIEFLY

New adventures available now

Two books by an author who died 40 years ago have been republished.

Leo Walmsley wrote about the fishing communities in his native Robin Hood's Bay, including Three Fevers. The new books, Foreigners and Angler's Moon, are the latest titles to be added to the Walmsley Society's portfolio.

■ More details are available from www.walmsleysoc.org